

Childcare sufficiency and sustainability

The challenges facing childcare providers and what's working to help support the sector locally

State of the sector

What's working

A parent perspective

Health warning!

Thursday, 18 June 2020 at 19:32hrs

STRICTLY EMBARGOED 00:01 FRIDAY 19 JUNE

One billion pound Covid catch-up plan to tackle impact of lost teaching time

New measures to help all children catch up

£700m to lift educational outcomes

£300m tutoring scheme specifically for the most disadvantaged

“

Prime Minister Boris Johnson said:

I want to once again thank teachers, childcare workers and support staff for the brilliant work they have been doing throughout the pandemic.

Education Secretary Gavin Williamson said:

This package will make sure that every young person, no matter their age or where they live...

As plans continue for a full return to education from September, the government has announced £700 million will be shared across early years, schools and 16-19 providers over the 2020/21 academic year.

Thursday, 18 June 2020 at 20:41hrs

STRICTLY EMBARGOED 00:01 FRIDAY 19 JUNE

Billion pound Covid catch-up plan to tackle impact of lost teaching time

New measures to help primary and secondary pupils catch up
£650m for state schools to lift educational outcomes
£350m tutoring scheme specifically for the most disadvantaged

As plans continue for a full return to education from September, the government has announced £650 million will be shared across state primary and secondary schools over the 2020/21 academic year.

As plans continue for a full return to education from September, the government has announced ~~£700~~ million will be ~~shared across early years,~~ schools and 16-19 providers over the 2020/21 academic year.

“

Prime Minister Boris Johnson said:

I want to once again thank teachers, childcare workers and support staff for the brilliant work they have been doing throughout the pandemic.

Education Secretary Gavin Williamson said:

This package will make sure that every young person, no matter their age or where they live...

GOV.UK

Department for Education

This is your daily email to keep you updated on the government's response to coronavirus (COVID-19).

Additional coronavirus (COVID-19) test kits for schools and further education providers in high prevalence areas

A black and white portrait of Maya Angelou. She is looking directly at the camera with a thoughtful expression. Her hands are clasped together, resting under her chin. She is wearing a patterned headscarf and a dark top. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

“

I've learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.

Maya Angelou

THE FORGOTTEN SECTOR

The financial impact of coronavirus on
early years providers in England

Early Years Alliance | June 2020

Gone by Christmas?

One in six nurseries and childminders
may not survive the winter due to continued impact of Covid, shocking new Alliance survey reveals

THE FORGOTTEN SECTOR

The financial impact of coronavirus on
early years providers in England

Early Years Alliance | June 2020

April 3,000

May 4,500

1:4 1:3 7:10

<https://www.eyalliance.org.uk/forgotten-sector-report>

October 2,000

1:6 1:4

FOI - 1:6

Gone by Christmas?

One in six nurseries and childminders may not survive the winter due to continued impact of Covid, shocking new Alliance survey reveals

Spending allocation 2019

Education allocation

Early Years allocation

我們不能回復正常
因為原來的正常就是問題

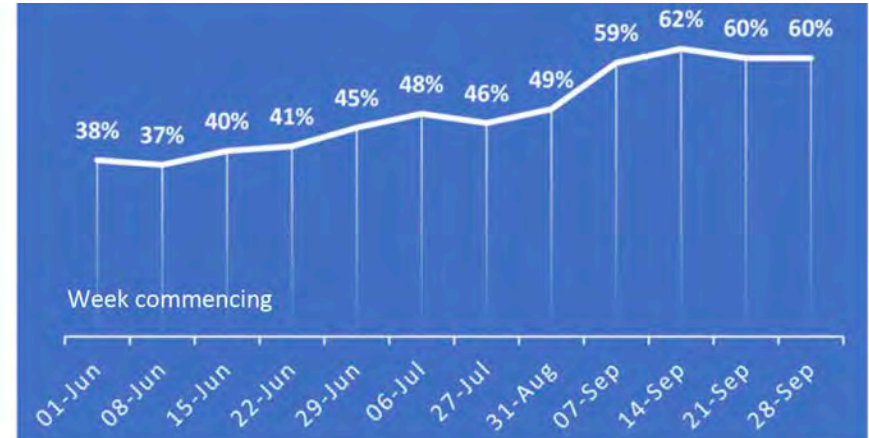

“there can be no return to normal because normal was the problem in the first place”

Proportion of PVI nurseries and pre-schools open to families

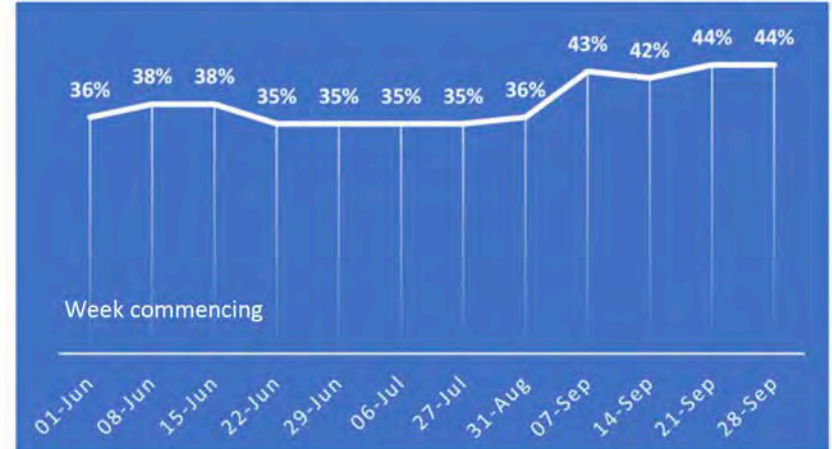

Average PVI nursery and pre-school occupancy levels: all ages

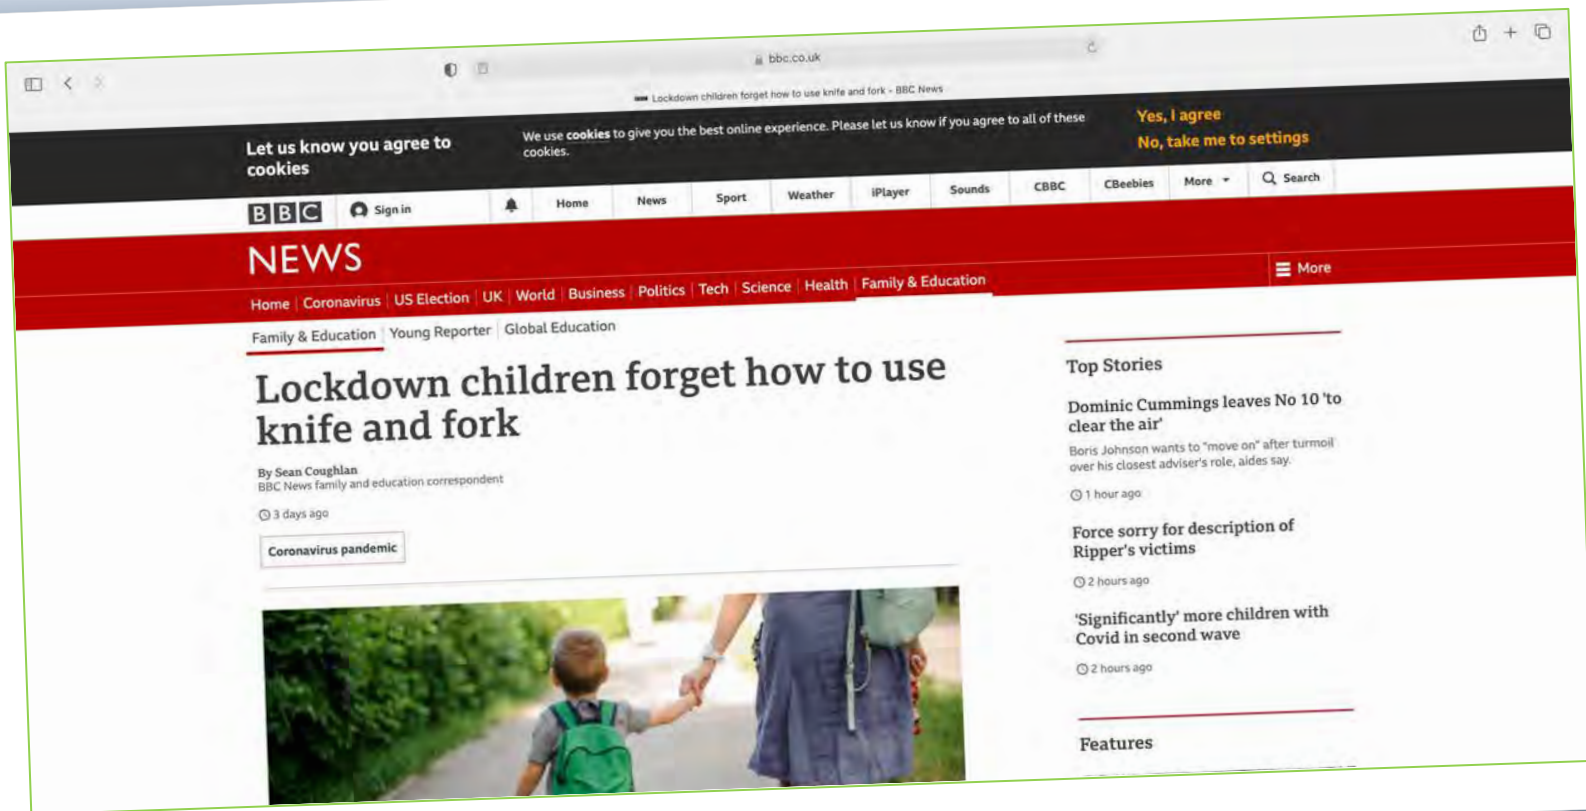

Proportion of childminders open to families

Childminder occupancy levels: all ages

Let us know you agree to cookies

We use cookies to give you the best online experience. Please let us know if you agree to all of these cookies.

Yes, I agree
No, take me to settings

BBC

Sign in

Home

News

Sport

Weather

iPlayer

Sounds

CBBC

CBeebies

More

Search

NEWS

Home | Coronavirus | US Election | UK | World | Business | Politics | Tech | Science | Health | Family & Education

More

Family & Education | Young Reporter | Global Education

Lockdown children forget how to use knife and fork

By Sean Coughlan
BBC News family and education correspondent

3 days ago

Coronavirus pandemic

Top Stories

Dominic Cummings leaves No 10 'to clear the air'

Boris Johnson wants to "move on" after turmoil over his closest adviser's role, aides say.

1 hour ago

Force sorry for description of Ripper's victims

2 hours ago

'Significantly' more children with Covid in second wave

2 hours ago

Features

Ofsted's second report into the impact of the pandemic

- Being out of the setting had “significantly impacted the learning and development” of those who left and returned.
- Interviewees reported lower confidence and more anxiety in children.
- 53% reported a decline in children’s personal, social and emotional development.

In response to changes in children's needs providers made various adjustments:

- Increased focus on key areas of learning, especially on social and emotional development, and personal hygiene.
- Increased outdoor playtime and focus on motor skills since many children had spent more time indoors and become more sedentary.
- Focussed on kindness, listening and taking turns to help children settle in again.

Ofsted's second report into the impact of the pandemic

Providers became community hubs in a vacuum, sending out information on public health, domestic violence, foodbank access and a host of other issues.

10

Hi everybody, welcome to this special session

10

0:00 / 11:15

“

Under 12's less likely to become infected and children in primary schools and early years settings, play a lesser part in transmission.

No greater transmission rates occurring within early years than the general population.

Experiences are worth a thousand opinions...

#ThisIsEarlyYears

Rebalancing the perception of early years